DISTRICT CONVENTION.

A Convention of the Democratic Conservative voters of the Fourth Congressional District will be held in the city of Raleigh on Tuesday the 13th day of June next, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress and a Presidential Elector, and selecting two delegates to the St. Louis Convention. A full attendance is earnestly desired. Each county will be entitled to one vote for every one hundred votes and fractional part over fifty given for Merrimon in 1872.

By order of the District Executive Committee.

H. A. LONDON, JR.,

Chairman.

March 31st, 1876.

Papers in the District will please copy.

It is understood that the Hon.

Thos. S. Ashe will be a candidate for re-election in the Mecklenburg District.

THE Democrats of Caswell and Person will instruct their delegates to the State Democratic Convention to vote for Montfort McGehee as their choice for Governor.

THE Magnolia Record favors the nomination of Hon. David S. Reid for Governor, and thinks that while Vance might rouse the most enthusiasm, Reid would get the most votes.

And this is the point for the Convention to consider.

We hope the Salisbury Watchman will do as it promised, and publish in its pamphlet form the review of the Constitutional amendments, as prepared by Mr. J. H. Henderson, a member of the Convention, and which appeared in the Watchman during the winter.

They are well and strongly written, and merit a large circulation through the State.

THE Salisbury Watchman does mainly justice to Hon. W. M. Robbins, and forcibly distinguishes his indiscretion from that dishonesty practiced by the Republican party, and for which it is trying desperately to find a set off and parallel in the single act of Mr. Robbins, in which

SENATOR MORTON'S VISIT.

The possible candidate of the Republicans for the Presidency will be in North Carolina soon, and will deliver the Memorial Address in Willington on the 10th inst., on Federal Decoration day. It is proposed to invite him to visit Raleigh on his way back to Washington.

We hope Mr. Morton will visit this State, and would be glad if he would spend time enough here to rub the scales from his eyes. He is bitterly hostile to the South; nevertheless, he is probably honest in his convictions, and he may be assured of respectful, though not cordial, welcome, from the Democrats. There is no personal feeling against him, as there is against Butler. His political views are his own, and they are unjust and harsh in their application to us; but we are accustomed, even among ourselves, to extreme diversity of opinions, and condemn no one on that account.

Intercourse with Southern men, in their own homes, would give Mr.

Morton a practical refutation of many of the delusions under which he labors, and might liberalize him, as it did Mr. Kelly, of Pennsylvania, who found that the devil was not half so black as he was painted.

THE INDIANAPOLIS ELECTION.

The telegraph report the other night deceived us with bringing out the wrong roster. We presented one with head thrown back, crest erect, ringing out the lustiest peals of victory, when we ought to have very unwillingly 'sawed the same bird in the last agonies of mortal sickness, drooping and despairing. But the telegraph told us of a Democratic victory, instead of one for the other side, and we proclaimed it.

Subsequent accounts reversed the result, and we were quite willing that the other side should have all the benefit of our conclusions, and let them accept the result in Indianapolis as conclusive for the whole State, as we did, until we learned from the Cincinnati Enquirer something of the machinery of that election, and how erroneous would have been any inferences of the general result drawn from that election.

The truth appears to be that both parties vied with each other in unfair and unlawful methods to carry the election. The Democrats were bested at their own game, and they have little right to complain. Only the Republicans had a material to work with which the Democrats could not use. They had the absolute control of the negroes of whom there are large numbers in Indianapolis, and in the use of them, they proceeded boldly. The Enquirer says "no disguise was needed, for a negro faces is the best disguise in the world."

"Repeaters were unblushingly carried from poll to poll in Republican wagons." "Wards which had not above one hundred negro voters, passed to-day three or four times that number." "Negroes armed with clubs and full of whiskey have taken possession of the 3rd, 4th and 13th wards, threatening white voters, and mobbing several of their own color who offered to vote the Democratic ticket." "Before the polls were closed, the Democrats had conceded the election to be the most barefaced outrage on American citizenship.

Wards of solid Democratic majorities had been captured by negro mobs, and white voters systematically disfranchised."

And so we have a Republican victory. But not such a one as justifies us in giving up Indiana by force of its effect to the Republicans in October. On the contrary, the very means by which the majority was obtained must react. In other parts of the State the positions of the parties were reversed, there being about an equal proportion of Democratic and Republican gains.

HOSTILITY TO THE CENTEN-NIAL.

We regret to see continued the bitter hostility and persistent misrepresentations of the Centennial, which some of the press of this State delight to make and continue. The time has gone by for such folly. It has no effect at home. It influences no opinion unfavorable to what is now a grand exhibition of the nations of the world. Philadelphia has ## signed the Emancipation proclamation on an exhibition, who will see it but his special worshippers, who will have to take a search as troublesome as a hunt for a needle in a hay-stack to find?

The Exposition has grander objects to accomplish than the irritation of sectional prejudices. It is on too grand a scale to admit of personal or sectional malevolence.

Even if objectionable mementos are present, liberal curiosity would be gratified, and national pride be filled that the work of conciliation had gone so far that the relics and me-ments of hostile sections could be exhibited with philosophical candor.

And this would be the spirit in which they would be exhibited, if at all.

But the managers, with a consideration for minute hardly to be expected in the multitude of subjects that engage their attention, have considered the feelings of the Southern people, and have excluded from exhibition everything that could be offensive. A distinguished gentleman of this State who has just returned from Philadelphia, whose position gave him access to any part of the Centennial buildings, and whose avocation brought him in contact with the managers, assures us that the most scrupulous care has been used to avoid the display, or even the reception, of anything calculated to offend the Southern people. Ever portraits of distinguished Northern generals, who won their laurels by victories over Southern armies, are rejected. Banners and trophies of irritating memory are excluded; and he adds that there is the most tender consideration for the feelings of Southern visitors.

We do hope that all this petty temper will be suppressed. Individual petulance is ill applied to irritate public temper. The State gains nothing, and it loses vastly by holding back in this universal gar-thering of nations. It is folly to be continually irritating a sore which common sense and common interest teaches must be healed, and the sooner the better—and no time better than the present, when the tens of thousands of Northern and Southern men may be brought face to face with each other on a common ground, to find how long and how much they have been mistaken in each other.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, May 4, 1876.

POSTMASTER GENERAL JEWELL is a disappointed man. A year ago he stood up on the political stage as a Presidential candidate. Today, it is conceded that he will not occupy either the first or the second place among the Republican Presidential ticket. Assuming the role of a reformer, he assayed the task of breaking the mail contractors' ring in the Department, but failed to succeed.
